Each year, the BERA Art Society holds a show of art and crafts created by members of the Lab community, revealing in many cases keen talent. A machine craftsman might exhibit toys and elegant macramé; a technician, a unique and sensitive sculpture; a scientist, a “speaking likeness” portrait using ticker tape as a medium.

Brookhaven staff, together with personnel and children from the on-site Child Development Center (CDC), celebrate the installation of new playground equipment in 2006. Brookhaven's CDC was the first to be built at a DOE facility. The center offers a day care program for children between the ages of six weeks to five years, with an emphasis on each individual child's process of learning. The center is managed by Child Care Management, Inc., and is licensed by the New York State Department of Social Services and accredited by the National Association for the Education of Young Children.
